Guidelines for Victoria

You can ride a bike anywhere in Victoria for as long as you like, including those who live in metropolitan Melbourne. Melburnians can now leave the city and there is no 25 kilometre radius limit.

You can ride in a group of up to 10 people from any number of households. Children under 12 years of age are not included in the cap of 10 and if you live in a household of more than 10 people you can exercise with your household.

You should keep at least 1.5 metres from anyone in your group and you must always carry a mask to use whenever you stop pedalling.

Should I wear a mask when riding?

- Victorians are required to wear a mask when leaving their homes.
 - Your mask must be fitted and cover the nose and mouth. Shields, buffs, scarfs and bandannas cannot be used as masks.
 - It is recommended that all bike riders wear masks when near other people.
 - If it is impractical to wear a mask while riding, you must still carry one with you when on a ride.
